30th European Symposium on Research in Computer Security

ESORICS 2025

30th European Symposium on
Research in Computer Security

Toulouse, France, September 22-26, 2025

UNIVERSITÉ DE TOULOUSE
FRANCE

Introduction

Computer security, also called cybersecurity, is the protection of computer systems and information from harm, theft, and unauthorized use*.

Progressively organised in a series of European countries, the European Symposium on Research in Computer Security (ESORICS) is confirmed as the European research event in computer security.

About ESORICS

⊕ Identity

Launched in 1990 in Toulouse, ESORICS has been hosted in a series of European countries and has established itself as the premier European research event in computer security.

Expected attendance is 250+ people (and 500+ submissions).

⊕ Mission & Vision

The aim of ESORICS is to further the progress of research in computer, information, cybersecurity and privacy, by establishing a European forum for bringing together researchers in this area, by promoting the exchange of ideas with system developers and by encouraging links with researchers in related areas.
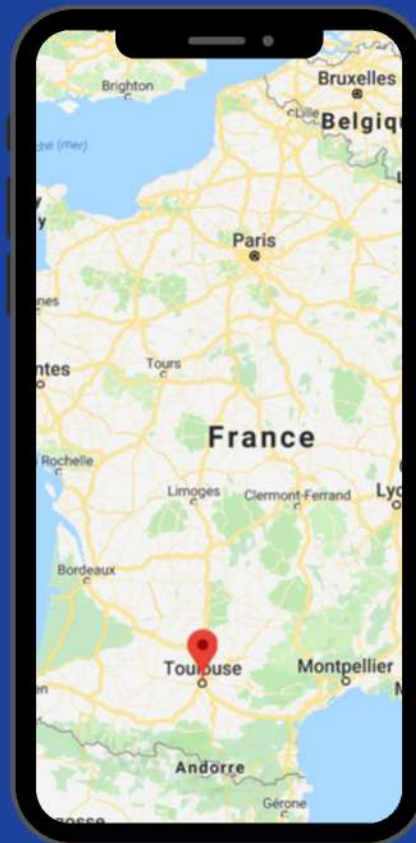

Organizing ESORICS

⊕ Independence

ESORICS is an independently organized conference (not affiliated with IEEE, ACM, IFIP, etc.) whose Steering Committee validates the location and organization of the next event (each year).

In a nutshell, the event organizer is responsible for the whole organization once it has been confirmed by the Steering Committee, i.e., the sponsors, the venue, the (balanced) expenses, etc.

⊕ Funding

ESORICS is a full-costing event, which means that all costs related to the organization are fully covered by the revenue it raises.

In order to do so, the organizers and hosts will rely on two types of funding: revenue from registration fees and support from sponsors.

It should be noted that the ESORICS organizers are not-for-profit organizations, which means that the financial management will be entirely planned to enable costs to be covered at a minimal risk level with no intention of making a profit on the event.
